Can you please help me? I'm 33 and I just started investing 5k a month but honestly, I'm so behind in life. Last year I had invested around 70k but I had to remove all of it due to some need.

I got banned from Hinge because I mentioned suicide and they're not even helping to reinstate my account? It was many years ago and honestly Hinge is the best app. So I can't even use that. I'm lonely all day, just going home from office and going to office. Don't earn much too. Fuck this

Can you help me plan? I am 33 and just started investing 5k/month. 1.5k in Parag Parikh and 2.5k in UTI nifty 50 index fund dg, and 1k in Tata Small Cap

Goal is to invest for long term so I have money to live off for during old age and not depend on any body

Currently I'm earning 75k per month and have no savings or any back up. I also provide for my father who is a broke and has nothing. I don't have generational wealth.

33M and failed in life. Going to lose my battle against depression tonight by going away I'm 33 years old and battling depression since 8 years. And I can't take it anymore. I've failed in each and every aspect of life and I've decided to not continue to live. Just want to go away. No friends, no family, no partner, no money, no savings, not even a little fun in life. Nothing. I tried to live.

I have no money to go anywhere. and have to provide for a bastard of a father. No one cares to ever ask me how I am. I have helped so many people. I can't bear this loneliness. No one cares if I will die, honestly. Not a soul will even shed a tear. My mother died watching me fail when I was 25. Fuck this life. I consumed extra pills last night but it didnt end me.

Life is extremely lonely for 33 year old failures. Every moment is a battle between me wanting to live and me wanting to do the deed and ending my life. Failed in every area of life.
